Introduction

The 10th annual Beer League Baseball draft took place on February 25, 2017. After about 3.5 hours of drafting and many, many beers (hopefully nobody ended the draft looking like this guy), the 20 attending owners finally had teams to call their own. After the last nine drafts I did a report card, grading everyone's picks, and I've decided to make it an annual thing, since I enjoy doing it and everyone seems to enjoy reading it.

What I've done is copied each team's draft results (for this year only) into the report card. Then I evaluate each team's draft based on a number of factors: Did this team overpay for anyone? Did they get good value picks? Did they make the right decision with the direction of their draft (ie attempt to contend vs rebuild)? Did they spend all their money (or did they seem to have good reason not to spend)? Did they apportion their money smartly? Finally, after all that, I assign a grade and summarize my overall thoughts on the team.

After a one year absence due to life intervening (ie me having twins) resulting in a lack of time, the WAR season preview returns this year! A few years back I developed a methodology to calculate the Wins Above Replacement (WAR) for each DLB card, and I've included a team preview at the end of the report card including a prediction of what the standings will be. I've tinkered with the formula a bit this few offseasons (including trying to capture recent rule changes), and in the next section I will summarize some of the changes and what my WAR now captures (I'm not re-hashing the details of the calculations, as anyone that's interested can read the 2013 report card on the website).

I should say that all these grades and team breakdowns are only my opinions. I didn't set out to do this to ruffle any feathers, or insult any owners, and if I do end up offending anybody with my grades, I apologize. I merely intend this to be a fun read, and something to get everyone psyched up for Opening Day.

With that said, I hope everyone enjoys this document and has a fun time reading it, and I welcome any complaints and arguments about my grades! Bring it on, and Play Ball!

WAR: What is it good for?

As many of you no doubt know or can tell, I'm a bit of a stats nerd. Ok, remove the phrase "a bit of" from the previous sentence and it'll be more accurate. Anyway, because that's where my interest lies I'm big into reading baseball saber sites such as Fangraphs and baseball prospectus, and those sites tout their versions of Wins Above Replacement (WAR). The concept itself isn't difficult to understand: You add up all of the things that a baseball player does on the field that helps his team win games (such as fielding, hitting and baserunning for hitters, and run prevention for pitchers) and compare the number (in runs produced or runs prevented) to a theoretical "replacement" player.

I started wondering a few years ago if it would be possible figure out the runs saved due to each fielder's range/error ratings, and I was able to come up with an estimation for that. As mentioned in the introduction, last year ago I decided to try to expand upon my work with range/error ratings and take on the challenge of quantifying everything else required to figure out a DLB player's card WAR value. My WAR values take into account the following aspects of a player's card (new features from last year are noted):

Position Players

- Ranges for each on base event on their card
- Ranges for each non-“normal” out, ie hard ground outs (which lead to double plays) and strikeouts
- Lead/steal ratings
- Baserunning
- Range/error ratings
- Arm rating
- Power rating
- Clutch rating
- Hit and run rating (new – updated to reflect the lack of ability to hit and run more than once in an at bat)
- Catcher handling/passed ball ratings (new – updated for chart edits to factor in framing)
- Durability rating
- Use rating

Pitchers

- Ranges for each on base event on their card
- Ranges for each non-“normal” out, ie hard ground outs (which lead to double plays) and strikeouts
- Hold/lead adjustment ratings
- Pickoff rating
- Wild pitch rating
- Jam/on/off ratings
- Pitcher fielding ratings
- Endurance

- Durability
- Use rating

For context below are tables outlining some of the average card WARs for each position, based on a sample of fulltime (ie not limited) players. For position players, I included a guy if he's carded at a position and not limited, even if that isn't his "best" position. This sample is meant to measure all of the possibilities for each position. For pitchers, a pitcher is classified as a starting pitcher if he's got an endurance rating of a starter and is not limited by the spot rating; if he has both starting and relief endurance ratings AND the spot rating, he's classified as a reliever. WARs are per 650 PA for position players, 220 IP for starters, and 70 IP for relievers:

	ALL	TOP 30	TOP 10	Top Player	WAR
C	1.3	2.9	5.0	Jonathan Lucroy	6.9
1B	1.4	3.8	5.1	Anthony Rizzo	6.2
2B	1.2	3.7	5.1	Jose Altuve	6.1
SS	1.4	3.6	4.7	Jonathan Villar	5.6
3B	1.2	3.9	5.4	Nolan Arenado	6.6
LF	1.4	3.8	5.0	Starling Marte	6.6
CF	2.2	4.5	5.7	Mike Trout	7.6
RF	1.9	4.1	5.3	Mookie Betts	8.1
DH	1.3	4.4	5.1	Mike Trout	5.9
OVERALL	2.1	5.9	6.7	Mookie Betts	8.1

PITCHING
	ALL	Top 30	Top 100	Top Player	WAR
SP	2.5	5.0	3.6	Clayton Kershaw	7.3
RP	0.4	1.4	0.9	Andrew Miller	2.3

As you can see from the above charts, the league averages vary by position, with CF for some reason having by far the highest WAR. One theory is that there are simply a lot of good CF right now and also their value on defense (a missed play is usually a double) means they grade out well. The overall average position player WAR is about 2, and if you read about WAR discussed on Fangraphs I believe they talk about 2.0 WAR being an average player so that seems to jive. As you can also see from the above chart, Mookie Betts narrowly edges out Mike Trout for the top overall player, while Clayton Kershaw and Andrew Miller are the top SP and RP, respectively.

Team Depth Charts

As mentioned this year I'm trying to estimate the standings using WAR and an estimation of playing time for each team. Some of you have sent in your projected lineups, etc and that was helpful and for those that didn't I estimated as best I could what you would do for rotations, lineups, injury subs, etc. Note that the rosters are as of Thursday, March 2nd, 2017.

As a rule of thumb for C durability guys I assume 1 DL stint (so a C SP will get around 200 IP from me, less if he's a C and likely to get pulled from games early, more if he's an elite SP and thus will stay in games longer). F durability starters get a projection of 150 IP. I don't worry too much about durability concerns for RP or DHs (F's are the exception); for C position players I assume usually 50-70 lost PA; D's and F's I ballpark an even greater playing time reduction depending on position. Even A durability catchers I have assumed will be rested on occasion so the backup catcher for each team will, at minimum, receive 50-60 PA.

One other note is that closers and set up men pitch in important (ie high leverage) situations, and as such their WAR is multiplied by 1.5 to reflect the fact that their innings are more important than the average RP and have a greater impact on winning games.

Rubber City Rebels

Owner: Joe Pryweller

Player	Bid	Grade	Comments
Lester, Jon	$34	B	One of the best SP in the auction. Not a bargain but no overpay either
Diaz, Edwin	$23	C+	Pricey for a RP given the risk but he has electric stuff and a great card
Finnegan, Brandon	$12	A-	Lots of DD vs RHB, but a 24 year old jam lefty for $12 is solid
Castillo, Wellington	$14	B+	Top C behind Posey/Ramos. Solid and underrated.
Desmond, Ian	$13	B-	OK price for the card; if he goes off in Colorado this will be a steal
Gonzalez, Adrian	$10	B+	Good price for the large side of a 1B platoon
Joseph, Tommy	$8	B+	Forms the other half of an effective 1B platoon, and has upside
Healy, Ryon	$8	B+	Good 50% card for this year and some upside for the future
Thames, Eric	$2	A-	Potential steal for 2 bucks. Projections love him for this year.
Montgomery, Mike	$6	C+	Ok price for a long LHP/spot starter. Could start for the Cubs this year
Rodney, Fernando	$2	B	Got the JAM but not a great card otherwise. Still, $2 is a slight bargain
Drury, Brandon	$6	B	Plays all over (though not well) and has pop. Only 24 so has upside
OVERALL GRADE:		B+	Overall I think Joe had a pretty good first auction. I don't know that Joe has a strong enough roster to compete, but he mixed in upside picks for next year with good cards that he can flip at the deadline.

Rubber City is projected to win 71 games. This team has an Ace in Lester and a solid #2 in Finnegan but not much else in the rotation. Joe's getting average-ish production from most positions but nothing stands out.

Player	Bid	Grade	Comments
Freeman, Freddie	$34	A-	Top 1B card in the auction at a reasonable price
Posey, Buster	$42	B+	Posey was expensive but is a top 2-3 catcher in all of MLB
Morales, Kendrys	$10	B-	Somewhat one-dimensional but is a solid lefty masher at worst
Pillar, Kevin	$11	B+	Good price here as his defense makes up for the so-so bat
Law, Derek	$8	A-	Excellent setup card for a reasonable price
Stripling, Ross	$9	C+	Few bucks more than I'd have gone, but Stripling is ok I guess
Harrison, Josh	$10	B	Hits LHP well, solid defense and speed, has bounce back potential
Severino, Luis	$1	B-	Decent sleeper pick
Gordon, Alex	$1	B	Had a rough year and is 33 now, but could bounce back
Grilli, Jason	$3	C+	Solid roogy, lots of deeps against lefties though
Shipley, Braden	$1	C-	D'backs pitchers don't excite me, don't see much upside here
Uehara, Koji	$1	B	Good price for an oppo RP to pair with Grilli in the mid-innings
Rondon, Bruce	$2	B-	Opposite RH RP, similar to Uehara
Marisnick, Jake	$1	B	Decent price for a good defensive 4 th OF who can hit LHP a bit
Headley, Chase	$1	B	Had a down year but has good defense and an ok bat for a buck
OVERALL GRADE:		B+	Ron got the top players at C and 1B in the auction (which bumped his grade from a B to a B+ in my mind), then filled out his roster with some decent players at decent prices. He's added a great setup man (Law) to keeper closer Betances and built an ok middle RP mostly on the cheap.

This is a borderline playoff team. Ron's got a good top 2 in the rotation as well as the bullpen, though the depth falls off from there. He's solid across the board in the field too with star turns by Posey, Freeman and Lindor.

Player	Bid	Grade	Comments
Herrera, Kelvin	$15	C+	I like Herrera but the price is a tad high for a non-jam RP
Strickland, Hunter	$6	B	Bit of a roogy but has the on/off and is a solid pick for $6
Robertson, David	$6	B+	Lots of BB and a poor hold but otherwise a jam RP for $6 is nice
Pujols, Albert	$5	C	At $1-2 I'd have liked this more, as I think Albert is close to done
Feliz, Neftali	$2	B	Lots of deeps but the card has its uses for only $2
Fiers, Mike	$6	B	Despite the jam, Fiers does not have a great card. Price is ok though.
Kendrick, Howie	$1	B	Utility guy and bounceback candidate for a buck
OVERALL GRADE:		B	Relatively unexciting draft for Dan. I like Herrera and wanted him myself but didn't want to pay $9-11. The rest of the auction was about filling out Dan's bullpen and bench, and he did ok there with some decent pickups.

Dan's projected to have a near .500 team this year, giving him a shot at his first winning record (sorry, couldn't resist ☺). Kidding aside, Dan's rotation is anchored by Sale, with solid turns expected by Santana and Davies. Fiers/Nelson have jams, but uh, they'll need them. WAR isn't a fan. Herrera and Strickland form a good 1-2 punch in the bullpen, and Dan's got a solid team in the field as well led by Seager, Piscotty, Gyorko and Buxton.

Bedrosian, Cam	$11	B	Great card and has some upside, though he wasn't cheap
Pollock, A.J.	$7	B+	Good bounceback candidate on a reasonable deal
Simmons, Andrelton	$11	B+	I'm an Andrelton fan so I like this deal a lot.
Maurer, Brandon	$7	C+	He could close in SD but I'd have liked this more as a $2-3 deal
Barraclough, Kyle	$7	B+	Crazy K's (14 per 9 IP). If he can get some command, watch out
Gray, Sonny	$4	A-	If healthy he'll bounce back. Great price.
Profar, Jurickson	$2	A-	Crazy he's only 24, but finally healthy and could have a nice 2017
Andriese, Matt	$9	C	Solid card but as a pick for next year I'm not a fan of the price
Foltynewicz, Mike	$15	C+	Upside but he didn't come cheap
Quinn, Roman	$1	C+	$1 sleepers are nice but Quinn is hardly a top prospect
Gsellman, Robert	$5	B+	I think Gsellman will have a nice year so I'm a fan of this pick
Tapia, Raimel	$1	B	COL hitters are always nice, but where does he play this year?
OVERALL GRADE:		B	Craig has his eye on 2018 and I think he added some nice bounceback and high upside players to help out next year. A few of his picks I wasn't a fan of but for the most part I liked the sleepers and young guys he targeted.

This projection surprised me quite a bit, only because I thought Craig was rebuilding. In any event even though some of his guys had down years, he's still got all stars at many positions leading to the 87 win projection. He's basically punted the bullpen which could be the difference in him making the postseason vs missing out.

Donaldson, Josh	$33	B+	Thrilled with Josh at this price, had him pegged for $38-40
Pedroia, Dustin	$26	A-	Consistent as they come; a slight bargain at $26. Card fits my needs
Belt, Brandon	$28	B+	A few more $ than I wanted to spend but is the #2 1B in the auction
Thornburg, Tyler	$19	B	One of my RH RP targets, great card but I wanted him for ~$17
Phelps, David	$9	B	Good long RP and the 5 spot starts is nice too.
Martin, Leonys	$4	B-	Needed a 4 th OF and missed on Gardner/Pillar, so he's the fallback
Reyes, Jose	$1	A-	Ringer card vs LHP and a PR, great bench piece
Treinen, Blake	$2	B+	Good card, slight ROOGY; could be in closer mix in WAS too
Butera, Drew	$1	A-	Great backup C card against RHP
Goins, Ryan	$1	A-	I needed a defensive SS, thought Goins would go for a few $ more
Schimpf, Ryan	$3	B	Nice PH option for me but his 2017 screams fluke
OVERALL GRADE:		A-	I'm very happy with my auction. I wanted one of Freeman/Belt for 1B, Pedroia for 2B, and one of Beltre/Donaldson for 3B. Beltre going for $18 a few picks later was crazy but doesn't change my feelings on Donaldson's price. I also wanted a jam RH RP and with the savings on the above trio I was able to stretch for Thornburg and Phelps (who I wanted for a few bucks less). After that it was about filling out my bench and bullpen and I'm happy with the prices paid for the guys I got.

I'm quite excited to play this team to be honest, as this is the best group I've had in years. The rotation is good 1-4 (and Stroman is fine as a #5), the bullpen is arguably tops in the league, and my weakest position is SS and I've got Bogaerts there so I'm ok with it.

Manaea, Sean	$9	C+	He'll get lit up as a LHP w/poor splits, but I like his future
Granderson, Curtis	$6	B+	Still has pop and ok defense, nice buy here.
Gardner, Brett	$10	B	He's been in a slow decline but his card is still solid/good this year
Devenski, Chris	$24	D	Don't get this at all. I like Devenski which saves this from an F
Perez, Hernan	$8	A-	Real nice utility player with pop and speed.
Smith, Mallex	$7	B	Good 4 th OF and should start in Tampa this year
OVERALL GRADE:		B	Brad had a good draft marred by the price paid for Devenski, who I like a lot as a player but who pretty much has to have a good year in the rotation to return the investment in 2018. Still, Brad added 2 of the top available SP cards for $40, a couple of solid OF in Gardner and Granderson, and a great utility player in Hernan Perez.

Fowler, Dexter	$20	B	Market price for a solid player
Greinke, Zack	$32	C	Bit of an overpay for the card and betting on a bounceback
Wright, Steven	$23	B+	Good price for a real nice card that can be sold if Wright was a fluke
Gregerson, Luke	$11	B+	Bit of a ROOGY but a good price for a jam closer
Dahl, David	$13	B	Decent price for a top bat, but he'll have to fight for playing time
Renfroe, Hunter	$2	A	He's a bit one dimensional but has big power. A steal at 2 bucks
Hand, Brad	$6	B	Re-invented himself as a long RP, good card for a reasonable price
Brantley, Michael	$2	C+	Low risk considering the cost but I'm skeptical Brantley can recover
Toles, Andrew	$1	A	Another cheap high upside OF in line for playing time this year
Dayton, Grant	$4	B+	Killer lefty card and a nice mid-season trade chip
Feliz, Michael	$1	A-	Lots of k's, nice power RP arm for a buck
Dickerson, Alex	$1	B+	Another cheap OF, less upside than the others but still a nice buy
Cabrera, Mauricio	$1	B+	Flamethrowing RP prospect, nice sleeper
OVERALL GRADE:		A	Ron had a great draft as he looks to rebuild his team for next year. About the only pick I didn't like was Greinke (more for the price paid than not liking the player). He got a ton of high upside talent at cheap prices.

Ron's in a retooling year, as the 73 win projection shows. Wright and Greinke will win some games for him but the rotation falls off beyond that. His outfield is good though full of a bit of mixing and matching.

Player	Bid	Grade	Comments
Griffin, A.J.	$7	B	Interesting strategy with the big DD window and the ON
Saladino, Tyler	$7	B-	Saladino's ok but unexciting as a utility/platoon guy
Grichuk, Randal	$15	B-	Pop and clutch but no OBP, still only 25
Boyd, Matt	$3	B+	He's a lefty so he has that against him but a solid card w/the ON
OVERALL GRADE:		B-	Chris didn't have many holes to fill but he picked up some "ON" gambles with Griffin and Boyd, and a solid utility man in Saladino. Grichuk's card is devoid of OBP but he'll hit some homers for Chris this year and is still young.

I know Chris won't be happy with this projection, so let's dive in. Teheran is an ace but his rotation is middling beyond that. WAR may undersell Griffin a bit if Schenk's plan is to make sure the ON is almost always in play (though the tradeoff there with more IBB is more baserunners). He's mentioned he's using Roark in the bullpen which I think is a mistake, unless he can really leverage him and get 120+ IP out of him. On offense, Trout/Marte carry much of the load and Grichuk is good too but he's got holes at SS, DH, and C with only ok production at 1B and 2B. I just don't see this as a playoff team barring some trades.

Player	Bid	Grade	Comments
Straily, Dan	$25	B	Solid price paid for Straily, who could repeat in Miami this year
Dull, Ryan	$8	B	On par with what similar long RH RP went for
Diaz, Aledmys	$10	A	Steal of a price for his card this year and the possibility of a repeat
McCullers, Lance	$6	B+	Risky (health) but tremendous upside if healthy
Frazier, Todd	$9	C+	Low OBP slugger on the wrong side of 30, but the cost is reasonable
Gomez, Carlos	$2	B-	Good price to see if his hot finish means a bounceback is in the cards
Anderson, Tim	$4	A-	Nice rookie season, love the price here
Gonzalez, Miguel	$5	B-	Gonzalez actually has a decent card so this is a good price
Barney, Darwin	$3	B+	Thought he'd go for more, great utility card and can hit LHP a bit
Margot, Manuel	$2	A	Another steal I think
Lorenzen, Michael	$1	B+	Good RP card (despite the F durability) and only 25
Lyons, Tyler	$1	C	Meh long LOOGY with an F durability
Johnson, Jim	$1	B+	Solid opposite split RH RP card
OVERALL GRADE:		A-	Rich did very well in his first auction with us. It's always tough coming in with a lot of money and spots to fill and he did a great job, mixing in nice cards for this year and some high upside picks on the cheap.

WAR has Rich's team as just squeaking into the playoffs in the 2nd wildcard spot. His rotation has a couple of good pitchers up top but drops off after that. The bullpen is solid, while on offense Betts and Yadi will carry the team but he should be looking for upgrades at the infield corners and CF.

Beltre, Adrian	$18	A+	Stupid good value here for the best 3B card in the auction
Davis, Chris	$14	B	Card isn't much this year but good bounceback potential if healthy
McCutchen, Andrew	$13	B+	Is he in decline or was 2016 an aberration? Solid price to find out
McCann, Brian	$7	B+	Solid price for the veteran catcher
Valencia, Danny	$5	B	Lefty masher with poor defense at a reasonable price
Familia, Jeurys	$13	B+	DV investigation clouds future but good price for card this year
Upton, Justin	$8	A-	Hit well after horrible start, nice buy here
Iwakuma, Hisashi	$5	B+	Cheap price for a solid starter
Reyes, Alex	$5	C-	Earliest return will be in year 3 thanks to TJS
OVERALL GRADE:		A-	Buneta had a very good draft. Beltre was the steal of the draft but he picked up other nice buys as well including McCutchen, Familia, and Upton. Only pick I don't like is Alex Reyes, because the TJS wipes out his year 2 card for Buneta so he needs to bank on a quick recovery in year 3 (and health/performance beyond) to return value.

I think Buneta is building for next year but his team won't be horrible this year either. Price and Darvish are a good 1-2 for as long as Yu is healthy. Familia is a solid closer. On offence he's getting solid production out of RF, 3B, 1B and DH.

Owner: Archie Scott

Player	Bid	Grade	Comments
Hernandez, Felix	$29	C	Don't like this price for Felix (who showed signs of decline)
Brach, Brad	$8	B-	I think the card is a bit overrated (slight ROOGY) but price is ok
Benintendi, Andrew	$18	B	Love the player, price is a bit more than I'd pay but I'm risk averse
Swanson, Dansby	$14	A-	This could be a huge steal next year, surprised he didn't cost more
Wood, Alex	$8	B+	Good price for Wood's card, even factoring in the F durability
Zimmermann, Jordan	$13	C+	Betting on a bounceback but I'd have liked the price under $10
Ottavino, Adam	$11	C-	Hardcore ROOGY with F durability for $11, not a fan of that
Cole, Gerrit	$16	B+	If he's healthy he'll be worth $16 next year, easy
Judge, Aaron	$5	A-	Great price for Judge who should start this year in NY
O'Day, Darren	$12	D	Another ROOGY for over $10
Tomlin, Josh	$21	C-	SP was scarce but this was an overbid
Cishek, Steve	$13	B	Good price for Cishek, whose ON rating will help with the DDs
Herrmann, Chris	$4	B	Limited but the price is solid
Leake, Mike	$5	B	Good price for Leake's card and a bet on a bit of a bounceback
Cobb, Alex	$1	C+	After a few years off, can Cobb come back? Decent flier pick
OVERALL GRADE:		B-	Tough to grade an auction with this many picks but I also have to cut Archie a bit of slack here. One, he joined our league right before the keeper deadline and had to get up to speed on the rules and players very quickly; two, he was drafting from his phone and missed part of the auction. Anyway, as you can see above I'm a bit mixed on his picks. He added some great young talent at decent to good prices, but overpaid for a pitchers in order to fill his staff this year. I feel he should have focused more on the future and chalked this year up to rebuilding. A "B-" grade feels about right and is a solid first showing for Archie in the BLB all things considered!

Rome is projected to have the worst record in the BLB. The rotation lacks an ace card or even a #2. The bullpen is good but getting leads to them will be the challenge. The right side of the infield is above average but beyond that Archie's getting bad to below average production at most other spots.

Cueto, Johnny	$39	B	Good card but figured he'd go in the low 30's
Ramos, Wilson	$25	B+	Ramos will get a C or F next year but $25 for his card is a steal
Eaton, Adam	$26	B+	I love Eaton; the price isn't a great bargain, but it's a solid buy
Samardzija, Jeff	$21	B	Solid card, maybe a few bucks high but SP was thin in the auction
Kipnis, Jason	$19	B+	Very good 2B card at a reasonable price
Maldonado, Martin	$4	B	Good backup catcher card
Segura, Jean	$23	B+	I don't think last yr was a fluke, he's recovered from his kid's death
Liriano, Francisco	$5	B+	I personally think he'll have a nice year so I like this pick/price
Buchter, Ryan	$6	B+	Crazy card (lots of K's, almost no hits) for a good price
Schugel, A.J.	$1	B+	Oppo long RP for only a buck. He does have the F but again, only $1
Biagini, Joe	$2	B+	Good price for Biagini who's a slight ROOGY but playable vs LHB
Jay, Jon	$1	B	Good price for a solid card for this year
OVERALL GRADE:	A-		I mean, you look at the grades and not a single one starts with a C, D or F. Across the board I think Glen had a very good auction. I can't find big faults with any of his picks, maybe a few more bucks paid here and there but he got some good players and also picked up some bargains along the way.

Ottawa is projected to have the best record in the Lager league. Glen's rotation 1-3 is quite good, and I'm sure he'll be looking for upgrades at 4/5. His bullpen is great with a dynamic 1-2 of Britton and Edwards and good 6th/7th inning guys in Schugel, Baez and Buchter. On offense, Ottawa is set at most positions except for 1B and perhaps RF (though Calhoun is solid).

Dakota is projected to fall just shy of the 2nd wildcard. The rotation is good, led by Syndergaard and Strasburg and followed by 3 solid mid-rotation arms. The bullpen is good too though I think Stephen could be on the hunt for a jam closer that's better than Doolittle. On offense, Stephen's main areas of upgrade should be LF and DH, and perhaps 1B as well.

Rolling Rocks should be around .500 this year. They've got a really good rotation 1-4 and one of the best closers in the game (and a good setup guy too). They've got some good spots on offense too with some holes in RF and DH. This is one of the depth charts I've guessed at so it's possible Aaron does some things differently on offense than I've shown.

OVERALL GRADE:		A-	Really strong draft again for David. He spread his dollars around but still brought in some good talent for his lineup (Tulo, Pence, Forsythe) and bullpen (Otero, Ziegler, Ryan) as well as some upside plays. His picks took a team that could have been borderline to miss the playoffs and turned it into the slight division favourite (see below).

WAR is projecting Nickel City to just squeak by Sudbury/Woodbury for the division title. He's got a great 1-3 in the rotation in Tanaka, Maeda and Lackey, and Osuna/Zigler/Otero will protect most leads he gets. On offense, there aren't any real black holes though I think he could use an upgrade on the right side of the infield.

Based on his trades and draft I think Norm is going for it this year (hell, Norm goes for it every year!). But I just don't see this as a playoff team. Kershaw could be worth up to 1.5-2 wins more than shown above if he stays healthy, or he could be worth 1 WAR if he goes down early. Hard to say with those "F" guys. After Dickey the rotation gets ugly. The bullpen is just ok. Ramos got the jam but isn't a top end closer. Norm's getting good production out of 2B but not many other places and 1B in particular is a black hole with Jose's down year and poor defense.

Player	Bid	Grade	Comments
Casilla, Santiago	$5	C+	Hardcore ROOGY, price is ok though
Nolasco, Ricky	$9	C	Middling starter, feels like more of a $2-3 guy
Wilson, Alex	$4	B	Solid long RP
Anderson, Tyler	$3	B+	Lefty in COL is dicey but his card is decent and it's only $3
Joseph, Caleb	$3	C+	-2 arm but can't hit at all
Flynn, Brian	$4	B+	Really good long LH pitcher
Beckham, Tim	$1	B+	Good price for former top prospect/utility guy
Suarez, Albert	$1	B	Not a bad price for a 5 th starter/swing man
Joyce, Matt	$1	B	Nice limited bat for a buck
Rua, Ryan	$1	B-	Solid platoon guy for a buck
OVERALL GRADE:		C+	Mike was critical of his own auction, and I can understand why. He mentioned he got shy on bidding early on and had to settle for role players to fill his roster. He did get some decent deals on some of those guys but by the time he started bidding (and given his budget limitations) it was too late to land impact talent for this year or next.

Mike should be happy with this projection as he's projected to take the top wildcard spot and challenge David for the division. His rotation is good anchored by Hendricks and followed by 3 mid-rotation arms. His bullpen is good too with 4 guys projected for more than 1 WAR. On offense this team will be led by a few stars – Braun, Seager, Goldschmidt and Car-Go – with Mike having to manage the “scrubs” – 3 headed catcher monster, Beckham, Joyce/Young – as best he can.

Player	Bid	Grade	Comments
Kintzler, Brandon	$13	B+	Good price for this jam closer
Garcia, Avisail	$2	C+	Got the clutch but a poor card otherwise. Only $2 though.
Kelley, Shawn	$12	C-	Overpay given that Kelley's got major DD issues vs LHB
Cotton, Jharel	$5	A-	Nice price on this sleeper SP
Strop, Pedro	$12	B-	I like Strop but this feels like a few bucks overpriced
Jones, Nate	$11	B+	Like Jones a lot, could close if Robertson gets dealt. Wicked card
OVERALL GRADE:		B	Minton had an ok draft. I like the Cotton and Jones picks and he added Kintzler and Strop to form an effective bullpen at market or slightly above prices. I think Kelley was an overpay given the issues vs LHB (though WAR likes him) but he'll help as well.

WAR has Naptown on the outside looking in in a tough division. Bumgarner and Hill are a great 1-2 and Graveman is a good #3 starter. His bullpen is great with Oh, Kintzler and Giles getting the jams and Jones, Strop and Kelly providing good middle relief. Cano and Blackmon are stars and Turner is worth about 4 WAR in half a season (what a card, wow) but aside from that he's got holes at LF and DH and below average production elsewhere. Again this is one depth chart I guessed at so it's possible Minton has different plans for his platoons etc.

Predictions – 2017:

As mentioned in the introduction, the predictions this year are again based not on my own gut feel/opinions, but rather on the WARs calculated from each team's depth charts (shown above in each team's write-up). First of all, the breakdown of WARs for each team for position players, SP and RP (highlighted values are top 5 in that category):

WAR BREAKDOWN
Team	Position	SP	RP	TOT
Rubber City	27.9	14.8	4.3	47
Bridgeport	33.4	15.3	5.1	54
Cincinnati	33.3	15.5	3.5	52
Dakota	36.4	17.0	5.5	59
Nickel City	36.1	18.8	7.4	62
Edmonton	46.4	19.1	10.0	76
Granite City	31.5	12.1	5.8	49
Vermont	35.8	12.9	4.7	53
Rome	24.5	10.4	5.6	41
Naptown	29.9	18.2	8.2	56
New Glarus	35.5	16.1	4.9	57
Newcastle	36.5	15.4	6.3	58
Ottawa	38.3	18.2	8.0	65
Payette	40.5	19.4	3.1	63
Rolling Rocks	30.6	19.1	6.7	56
Shiner	38.6	19.4	6.0	64
Sudbury	39.8	15.1	5.9	61
Texas	37.9	14.6	6.0	59
Toronto	30.2	14.4	3.8	48
Woodbury	36.3	15.9	7.9	60
AVERAGE	35.0	16.1	5.9	57

The top group of position players is Edmonton followed by Payette. The top SP WAR is a tie between Shiner and Payette. The top bullpen WAR is Edmonton followed by Naptown.

Now I present to you the WAR predicted 2017 standings:

ALE					LAGER
IPA					Bock
Team	W	L	%	GB	Team	W	L	%	GB
Edmonton	100	62	0.617	0	Ottawa	89	73	0.549	0
Payette	87	75	0.537	13	Dakota	83	79	0.512	6
Newcastle	82	80	0.506	18	Rolling Rocks	80	82	0.494	9
New Glarus	81	81	0.500	19	Vermont	77	85	0.475	12
Rubber City	71	91	0.438	29	Rome	65	97	0.401	24

Stout					Pilsner
Team	W	L	%	GB	Team	W	L	%	GB
Shiner	88	74	0.543	0	Nickel City	86	76	0.531	0
Narragansett	83	79	0.512	5	Sudbury	85	77	0.525	1
Bridgeport	78	84	0.481	10	Woodbury	84	78	0.519	2
Cincinnati	76	86	0.469	12	Naptown	80	82	0.494	6
Granite City	73	89	0.451	15	Toronto	72	90	0.444	14

Playoff teams are highlighted. In the Ale, Edmonton is projected to win 100 games, while Payette is projected to finish in the top wildcard slot. In the Stout, WAR has Shiner winning the division. WAR projects a close race for the 2nd wildcard between Newcastle and Narragansett with Rich narrowly beating out Ron.

In the Bock, Ottawa is projected to win nearly 90 games with Dakota competing for the 2nd wildcard slot. The Pilsner is projected to be a close race as Nickel City is projected to win the division with Sudbury and Woodbury taking the two wildcard spots.
